This is one of those books for killing time.Pick it up ...read a little and come back for more later.1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Tremendous fun for baby boomers!By J. Douglas BensonThis is an out-of-print gem that turns up in used book stores and wholesale closeout bins occasionally; but it's timeless despite its age. Hundreds of pages of memories, thousands of photos, millions of laughs; it's a bunch of fun.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five StarsBy Falguy60One of the best books ever written on our childhood. Tons of information on fun stuff..from way back!!

This evocative and thoroughly comprehensive guide celebrates the whole range of pop Americana--yo-yos, pink lawn flamingos, comics, drive-ins, bubble chewing, Annette Funicello's beach movies and countless other pop icons. Each entry is covered in meticulous detail, providing hours of fascinating browsing. Photos and drawings throughout. Original.

.com The Whole Pop Catalog is the definitive reference on the knickknacks, products, and commodities that constitute pop culture. Laid out like a zine, with a half dozen short blurbs and bizarre illustrations on each page, the Catalog covers everything from Abbot and Costello to yo-yos, and does so with the right mix of reverence and amusement. If you're looking for a GI Joe video, an old-fashioned wall-mounted soda pop bottle opener, an explanation of 3-D movie technology, or an Ed Norton doll, you must have this tacky volume. From School Library Journal YA--Return with us now to those thrilling days of yesteryear, to the days of Pez holders, Mr. Potato Head, drive-in movies, lava lamps, and more. YAs will find a full history of each item, related information, trivia, and addresses where the items can be purchased. Since the book is arranged alphabetically, readers will be able to zero in immediately on a favorite section such as James Dean, Hula-Hoops, or yo-yos, and this catalog could be read from cover to cover. Guaranteed to arouse the curiosity of even the most reluctant reader.-Roberta Lisker, W. T. Woodson High School, Fairfax, VA Copyright 1992 Reed Business Information, Inc.
